Pathfinder Announces a Full Complement of Classes for 2009

Pathfinder is pleased to announce that with the return of several cadre members from overseas contracts we have been able to expand our course offerings in 2009. According to Ed Fernley, Pathfinder's Operations Branch Chief, the return of this staff not only allows for the scheduling of more programs but also insures students are exposed to instructors with the most up to date experience available from the current operating environment. "These folks have been operating at the tip of the spear and now bring back that invaluable experience to our students," explains Mr. Fernley. This schedule represents is the most extensive that we have been able to provide to date and we look forward to a great year of training courses. Although various open enrollment courses are scheduled for 2009, agency leaders should remember that Pathfinder may be engaged for custom or individual programs.
