NRA Certified Instructor Edward Fernley makes his own "path"

Pathfinder Operations LLC is the brainchild of NRA Certified Instructor Edward Fernley. NRAblog met Fernley during the recent New York State Rifle and Pistol Association Annual Meeting (read our coverage of the meeting here).

As a firefighter and paramedic, Fernley saw a lot of situations where specialized medic training was needed. After attending a tactical medical training event in 2001, Fernley was even more convinced that the market for such training was wide open.

"As I started the company and gathered up some of my fellow tactical medics we said, 'there's nobody out there doing this, outside of Texas,'" Fernley explained. Pathfinder Operations was born, and Fernley and his employees keep a busy schedule, both training and consulting.

NRA Basic Pistol is incorporated in Fernley's training, as well as advanced courses such as combative pistol. "We teach everyone, from citizens to law enforcement officers," he said. Clients include New York State National Guard and the Army Guard.

With the motto of "Realistic solutions for your world," Pathfinder Operations offers the following services:

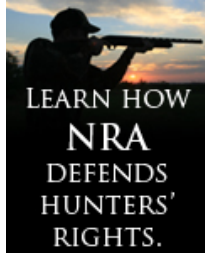

- Direct Tactical Emergency Medical (TEMS) Mission Support Services
- Tactical Emergency Medical (TEMS) Training
- Facilities Security and VIP Protection Detail Consulting, Training and Direct Mission Support Services
- Direct Mission Support and Training Services
- Self Defense and Weapons System Training
- Consulting on Law Enforcement and TEMS Team Development
